ARX®

Twin Bandage for finger and toes

Our popular ARX® Twin-Bandage is now available in two different widths; 13 mm and 30 mm. The self-attaching ARX® material provides both a secure application as well as high comfort without having to use a hook material to secure it. This makes it especially suitable for finger and toe fixations. The twin-bandage should always be used above and below the affected joint for the best function.

Suitable for assisting fingers in mobilization by connecting the affected finger to the adjacent finger, to protect it while allowing you to move it to prevent stiffness. It can also be used to fixate a finger or a toe after sprains or stable fractures.

The ARX® Twin-Bandage is available in three different packs; 5-pack, 25-pack and 50-pack.

Indications: Finger or toe sprains, strained ligaments or post-operative after the fracture has healed in order to promote mobilization.
